ATLANTA'S MONEY.

Where It Will Come from and Where It Will Go During This Year.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE'S REPORT

Shows That Atlanta Will Collect and Disburse Something Like $2,000,000. The Council Session.

Nearly two millions of dollars will pass through Atlanta's treasury this year. The finance committee has completed its estimates of the income for the year and at the same time the committee has decided how that income shall be spent.

And during the session of the general council yesterday afternoon the award to the various departments by the finance committee was adopted. The award of the committee was, of course, based upon the estimated income of the city.

There is no harder piece of work connected with the city government of Atlanta than that the finance committee does when it makes an estimate of the income of the city for the year and then attempts to apportion that income to various departments. But this year the work found the satisfaction of the general council on its first reading and was adopted without any opposition whatever.

"I have here," said Mr. Stockell, chairman of the committee, who has been working under the reports of regular committees, "the report of the finance committee showing the estimated receipts of the city for the year 1894, and also the apportionment of the money to various departments. But before the clerk reads the report I'd like to say that we have, in doing this work, taken into consideration the various propositions to reduce the rate of taxation from 1 1/2 per cent to a smaller amount and we find that such a step is absolutely impossible. This year Atlanta is growing and it is the history of all growing cities that a reduction of taxation cannot be done just at this time. Every member of the committee was more than anxious to reduce the tax rate, but when we got to work we all came to the conclusion that it could not be done without injuring the city greatly. With that I'll ask the clerk to read the estimated income of the city of Atlanta for the year 1894. Every member of the committee is of the opinion that it is larger than it has ever been and that there is every evidence that any one could desire that the city is growing."

He then showed the estimated income for the year 1894 to be:

In making these apportionments the committee has done the very best that could be done. Some of the departments may have received less than they asked for and than they expected, but we could do no better. The report I now pass to the clerk."

SENT TO THE HOSPITAL

J. D. Kavanaugh Becomes Ill at Police Headquarters.

HE WAS TO HAVE BEEN SET FREE

Chief Connolly and the First National Bank Exchange Some Spicy Telegrams. Disgusted with Each Other.

A verbal skirmish at long range and by telegram occurred yesterday between Chief Connolly, of Atlanta, and the First National Bank, of Meridian, Miss.

The chief and the bank are thoroughly disgusted with each other, and expressions of their feelings passed over the wires yesterday, couched in no measured language. The telegrams said "disgusted," and as much emphasis as the wires could lay on the word was given it.

It occurred over the telegrams passed last week between Chief Connolly and this bank, regarding J. D. Kavanaugh, who has now been under arrest almost a week. When it was ascertained that Kavanaugh was not wanted in Mobile, Ala., which city had first laid claim to him, Meridian began to work the wires with the view of having him brought to that city.

The details of his alleged crime in that city are not known in Atlanta, but telegrams from the First National bank say that he committed a forgery, of which it was the victim. The extent nor method is not known.

Chief Connolly wired that Kavanaugh was in custody and could be had upon the presentation of requisition papers. Several telegrams passed between the Atlanta chief and the First National bank, and then Chief Connolly, of Meridian, took a hand in an official way.

It was arranged, Chief Connolly thought, that Kavanaugh was to go to Meridian to be held in custody until the bank could be satisfied that expenses would be incurred here, to which Chief Connolly replied that five dollars would cover all bills, and later Chief Connolly received a telegram from the bank expressing their disgust at the chief's action. Chief Connolly was not slow to reply in the same tone. He wired the bank that no one could be so disgusted that he had been with their petty delay.

After sending the telegram Chief Connolly wrote to Chief Connolly, giving the facts in the case, and requesting him to convey to the bank his sincerest feelings of disgust for their style of doing business. The chief was not a little incensed over the matter, since he had been very careful to hold Kavanaugh for the Meridian bank.

Kavanaugh would have been set free immediately, but yesterday he was taken seriously, perhaps dangerously ill, and had to be transferred to the hospital. His condition was regarded as somewhat serious by Dr. N. O. Harris, the city physician, who examined him, and he had a conference with Chief Connolly and advised that Kavanaugh be sent where he could have constant attention. Last night he was resting in one of the hospital wards. His ailment is permanent and will require some time before he can be released.

There is now no more news about Kavanaugh. He will be let go as soon as he recovers, providing his illness does not take a too dangerous turn.

MINOR COURT NEWS.

Judge Westmoreland Disposed of One Case Yesterday.

The first case taken up before Judge Westmoreland in the city court yesterday was that of Nichols against the city of Atlanta. After hearing all the testimony and the argument of counsel a verdict for the defendant was brought in by the jury. The second case was that of Cook against Morris, suit on account. It will be concluded today.

The suit of Reese against the Atlanta and West Point road for damages occupied the attention of Judge Van Epps's court yesterday all day. It is hardly likely that it will be finished before this evening. Messrs. Dorsey, Brewster & Howell represent the defendant.

A suit for damages to the amount of $100 was filed yesterday in the clerk's office by W. H. Rutledge. It is a damage suit against the Georgia Pacific Railway Company.

APPOINTED ADMINISTRATOR.

Judge Calhoun Disposed of a Peculiar Case of Will Contest Yesterday.

When Mrs. Sarah A. F. Backus died she willed all her property to her husband, G. F. Backus, appointing him in her will executor as well as sole legatee.

Just before the will was probated Mr. Backus decided to sell the property. There were certain debts to be paid in connection with a settlement of the estate, and he was worried by this. Mr. Backus desired to rid himself. With this in view he sold the property to Messrs. Charles Golden and A. P. Dickridge, with the understanding that they were to attend to the debts.

At the time of selling the property Mr. Backus renounced the executorship of the estate. Dr. T. D. Longino, who attended Mrs. Backus to the extent of $35 previous to her demise, applied to the gentlemen who had purchased the estate for the money. It was refused payment and Dr. Longino applied for papers administrator cum testamento annexo. After hearing all the evidence in the case, Judge Calhoun decided that Dr. Longino's position was a just one and appointed him administrator.

LOOK OUT FOR IT!

Physicians Are Expecting A Great Epidemic.

WHAT DR. EDSON SAYS.

Be on Your Guard If You Value Your Health and Happiness—Where to Find the Ounce of Prevention.

Dr. Cyrus Edson, one of the greatest physicians in America, states positively that we may expect another grip epidemic before the spring months begin. His reason for thinking so is that we have had about the sort of weather for grip, including changes of temperature, muggy atmosphere, heat and cold. There are also other sure signs. People everywhere are complaining of coughs, colds and chills. They are sneezing continually, feel weak and run-down. Sickness is certainly increasing, and every day a long list of fatal cases of pneumonia is reported. Such alarming facts must receive attention from every person who values life and health. It is only by exercising the greatest care that these dangers can be avoided.

But, you ask, what is the secret of avoiding them? There is but one secret, and that is by keeping the kidneys and liver in good working order. When these great organs do not act properly, grip and other deadly diseases can easily take a firm hold upon us. When they do act properly, grip can be kept at bay.

It is now admitted by the best physicians, professors and advanced thinkers the world over that nothing has ever been discovered that can accomplish this purpose of keeping the kidneys and liver in perfect condition except the great remedy known as Warner's Safe Cure. This great preparation has been tested thoroughly for the past twenty years, and has never failed to prevent the coming on of grip, pneumonia and the terrible dangers which follow in their wake. Thousands of names could be given of those who have found this cure, and it has become so wonderfully popular entirely upon its merits.

But while this great cure will invariably prevent an attack of the grip if taken in time, it has an equally great record owing to the great cures it has performed. From one end of the land to the other this subtle disease, with its terrible after-effects, has been entirely overcome by this great remedy. See what a few have to say:

Mr. J. A. Callis, Jackson, Md., says: "I was taken in Chicago with the grip. I took many remedies, but got no better. At last I took Warner's Safe Cure, taking a spoonful every thirty minutes, when suddenly the phlegm broke loose and I raised a quantity of mucus, and am happy to say I have been restored to complete health."

Mr. T. Murphy, Flushing, N. Y., says: "I had a severe attack of grip which left me very weak and totally unfit for work. Doctors could not help me, and it took me three weeks to get on my feet. I then took Warner's Safe Cure that I am a well man today."

The cure could be prolonged indefinitely, but enough has been said to show that no man and no woman need suffer from grip in any of its terrible forms. Only the first symptoms are noted and the right remedy is used.

Perfect health is seldom found, for impure blood is so general. Hood's Sarsaparilla really does purify the blood and restores perfect health when possible. Try it yourself.

WILL CHARGE THE JURY TODAY.

Judge Clark Thought the Weather Too Bad and Deferred His Trial.

The trial of John Hayes, charged with assault and intent to murder, was put to trial yesterday afternoon before Judge Richard Clark and all the evidence was finished and arguments concluded before time for adjournment of court. Judge Clark said that the weather was so bad that he would wait and charge the jury in the morning.

Hayes is from East Point, and is charged with the assault made upon a Mr. Johnson of the same locality. It is alleged that Hayes went to the home of Johnson and called him to the door, firing at him when he made his appearance. Three or four bullets lodged in the person of Mr. Johnson, and the result was the arrest of Hayes.

Not long after the arrest of Hayes his wife was taken sick and permission was given Hayes to visit her. He was put in the charge of Bailiff DeGray. The home of Hayes was reached quietly enough, but when there the prisoner asked that he be left alone with his wife for a few minutes. DeGray refused to do this and stepped outside. When he reappeared the room door Hayes had skipped. Later Hayes was captured in Alabama and brought back. Hayes's defense is that Johnson was too free in his attentions to Mrs. Hayes.

Many prominent citizens and officials recommend Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

A RARE TREAT

The gifted and talented orator, Hon. Lon J. Beauchamp, so electrified the people in various parts of the city during his meeting last week that they determined to secure him for another week and have arranged for DeGiv's opera house for all the meetings.

This accomplished lecturer has a rare fund of the richest humor, vivid word picturing and marvelous pathos at command, which makes the audience laugh or tremble at his will.

His word paintings are as rich in coloring, and clear in outline as the gorgeous hues of an autumn sunset.

Educated in the lore of the schools; polished by world-wide travel, experienced by contact and observation through the whole range of human society, Mr. Beauchamp, who has been a member of the Trinity church both pastor and people were so greatly delighted that the plan was instantly developed for a continuation during another week, that larger numbers of our citizens might enjoy his matchless eloquence.

The admission is free and every body is most cordially invited. To the ladies of Atlanta a special invitation is extended.

Do You Know Him?

Estacion de Sierra Mojada, Mexico, January 5, 1894.—Editor Constitution: Yesterday I had the misfortune to have one of my brakemen killed. He was a colored man, named Albert Teasley. I understand he was born and reared in or near Atlanta, Ga. Will you please place this notice in your paper? Also have it read in the colored churches of your city. If any of his family live in Georgia they can hear about him by writing to me. Very respectfully,
D. A. CRAYTON, fully.

It

Continues Grandly.

Facts are stubborn things, and fakes must crumble into dust when scrutinized by the piercing rays of facts. It is a fact that Fakes abound on all sides—Fakes in Fire Sales, Fakes in Bankrupt Sales, Fakes in Receivers' Sales, Fakes in LITTLE STORES, Fakes in BIG STORES, all claiming to sell goods at 30, 40 and 50 cents on the dollar. How ridiculous these claims and the presumption on which they are based that the public are fools! Can any one, can even the oldest inhabitant, remember of ever buying goods at less than their value at any such sales? The great majority of the purchasing public know a good thing when they see it; hence the wonderful success of our Mark-down Sale. See the way prices have dropped:
